DR. MABEL HALLER

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE 130th CLASS:
DEAR GRADUATES,

Your Archive staff deserves high praise and sincere congratulations from all of us for a most fortunate choice of theme for this yearbook:

"I am a part of all that I have met:
Yet all experience is an arch
wherethrough
Gleams that untraveled world,
whose margin fades
Forever and forever when I move.
To follow knowledge, like a sinking star,
Beyond the utmost bound of human thought.
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

—Ulysses
by Alfred, Lord Tennyson

It is truly my hope that the many and varied experiences afforded you at Northeast have formed for each of you that "arch" into richer, fuller, happier lives, wherever and however you may be destined to spend them. Whether the coming years find you in college, in business, in the trades, in the home, or in the Armed Forces of our country, continue to seek knowledge, formally or informally, to keep ahead of, or at least abreast of, the rapidly changing and demanding complex world in which you will be living and serving. Do not let the learning momentum of the last three years slacken; rather, let it motivate you ever "to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

Should your new world at times have disturbing dimensions, precarious scales and confusing values, be not dismayed. Your guide can—and should—always be a sincere commitment to your own principles, and a sensitivity to those of others. Hopefully you have already come to understand that goodness without knowledge is feeble; knowledge without goodness is dangerous; combined, both form the noblest character and lay the firmest foundation for the genuinely happy and fulfilling life.

That each of you of Northeast's 130th class may have that kind of life is my earnest wish and fervent prayer now and always!

Affectionately yours,
MABEL HALLER

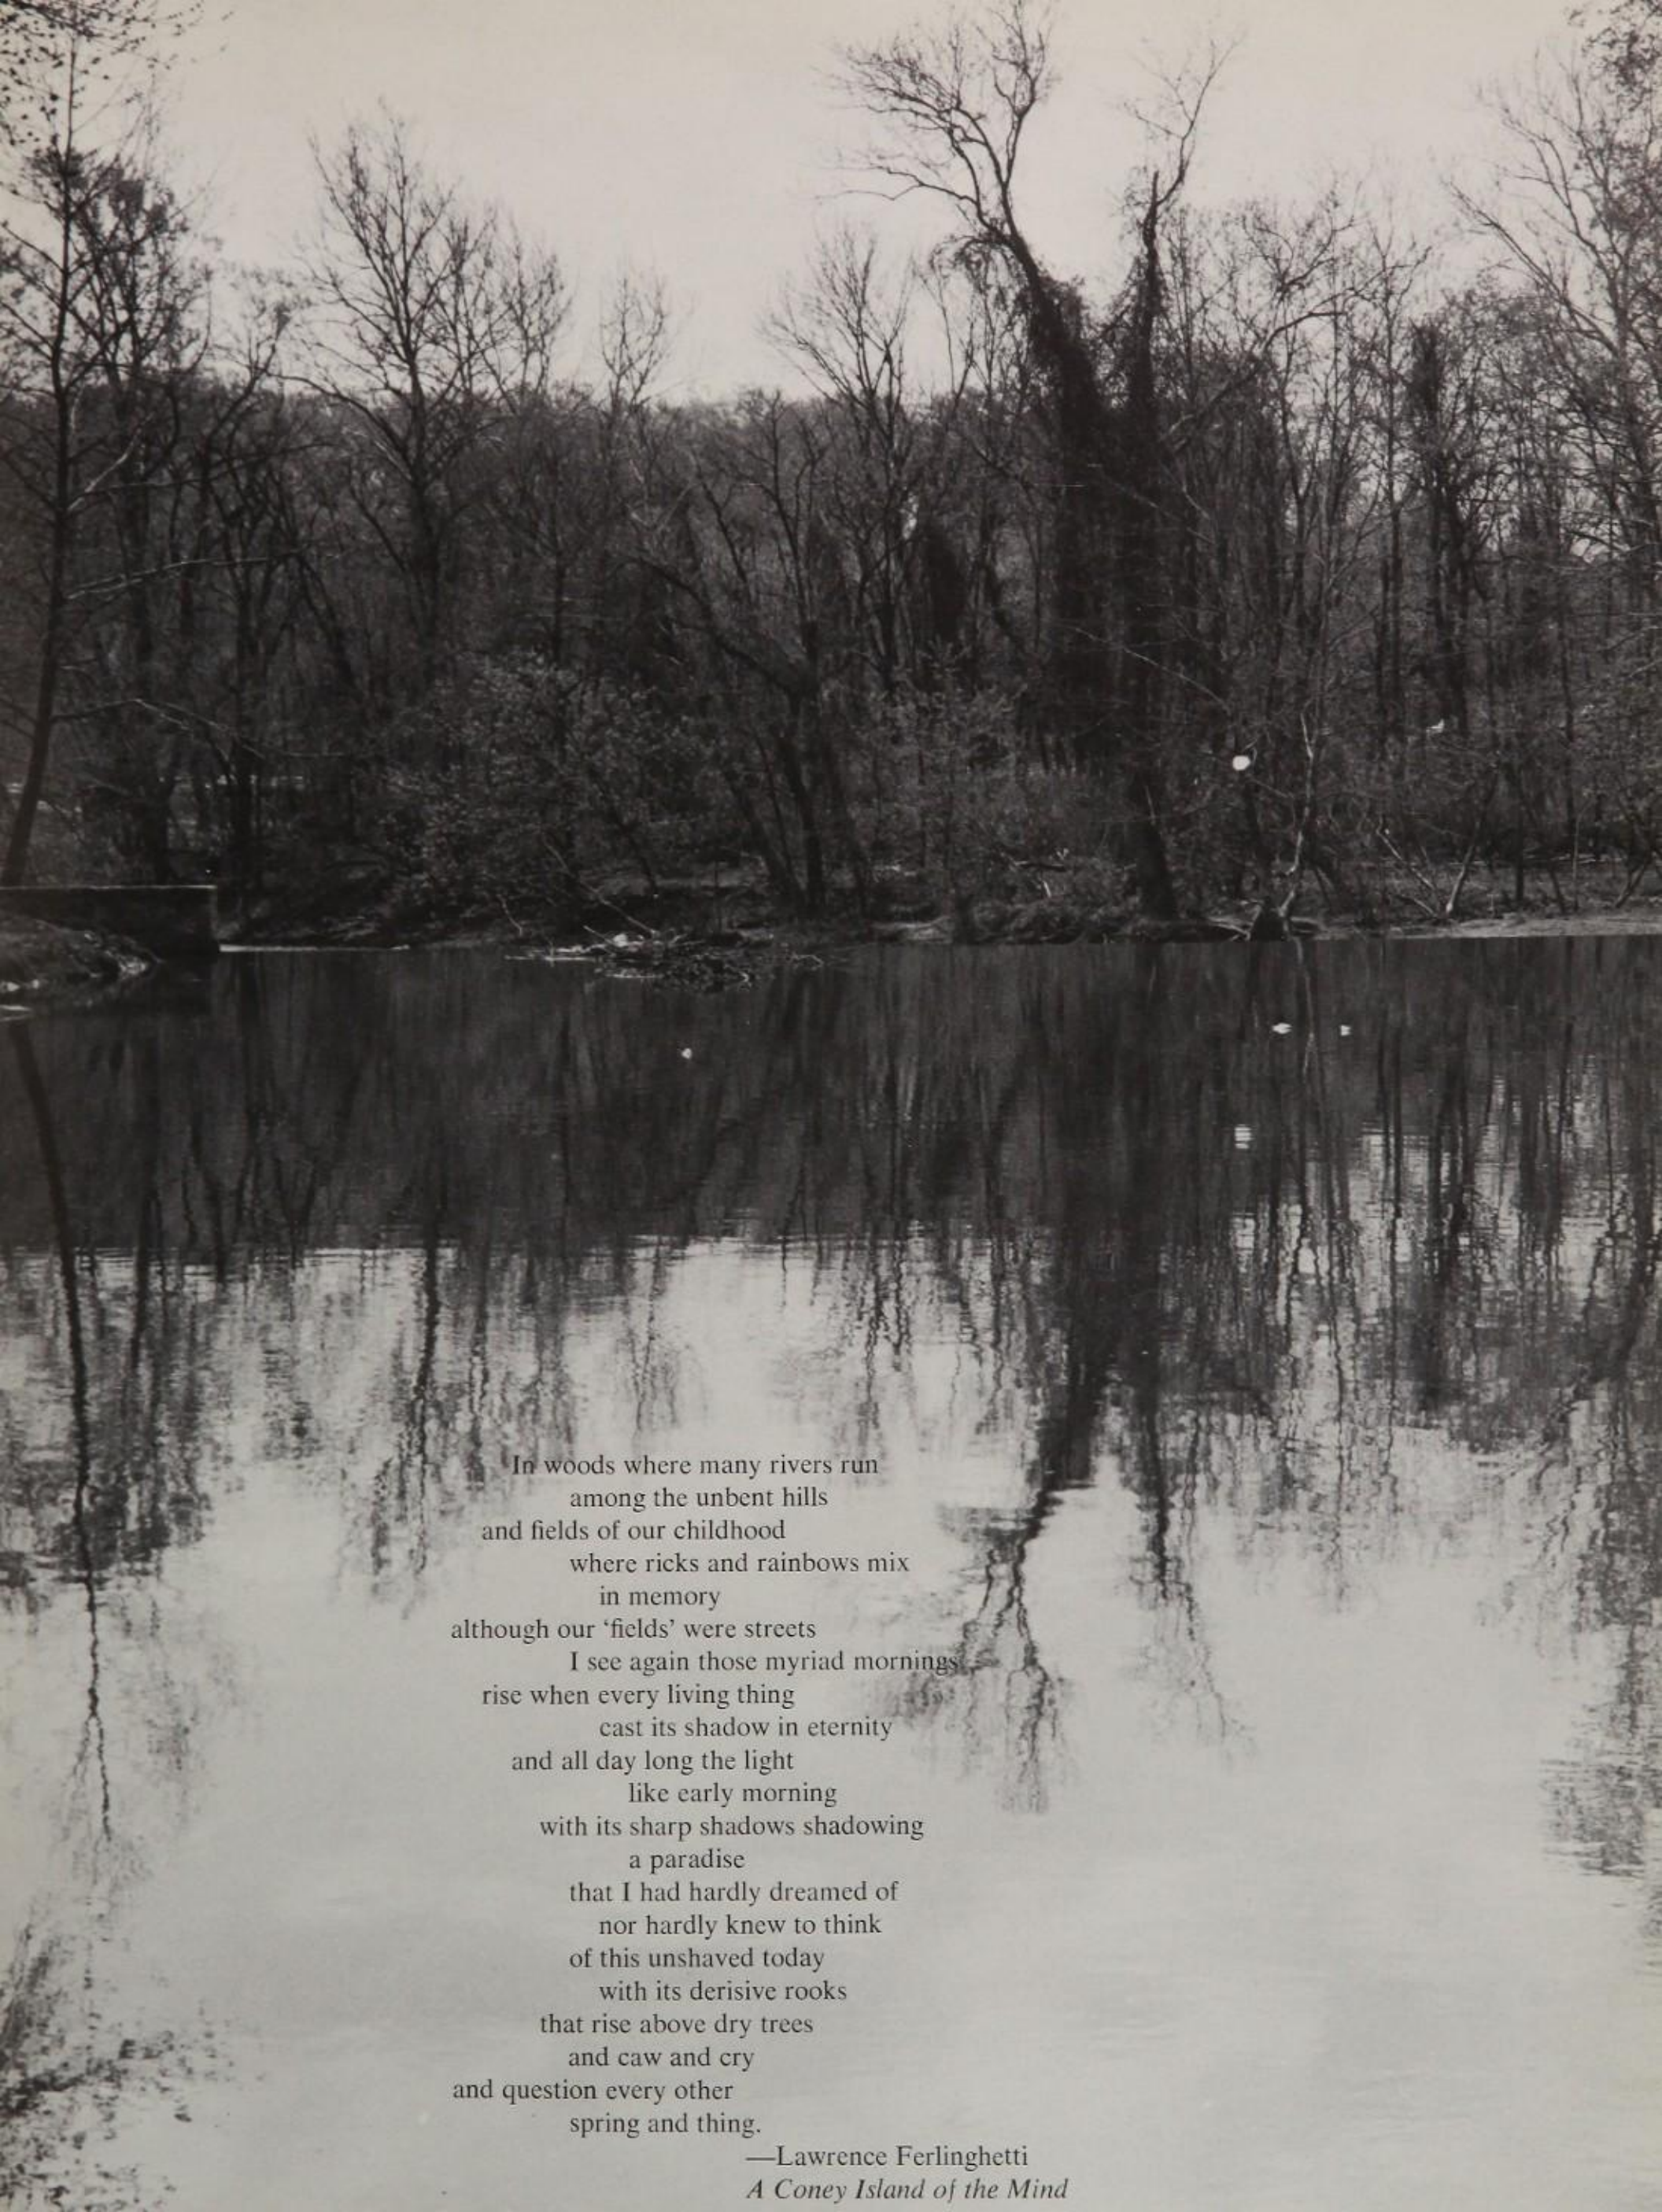
In Memoriam

CRAIG R. ABRAMS



In woods where many rivers run
among the unbent hills
and fields of our childhood where ricks and rainbows mix in memory
although our 'fields' were streets
I see again those myriad mornings rise when every living thing cast its shadow in eternity
and all day long the light
like early morning
with its sharp shadows shadowing
a paradise that I had hardly dreamed of nor hardly knew to think of this unshaved today
with its derisive rooks
that rise above dry trees and caw and cry
and question every other spring and thing.

A Coney Island of the Mind

My thoughts and my words have become filled with confusion. It is hard to say farewell to all that we have known and all the friendships within this class that have become a part of us. We strive to find friendships where we give not of our possessions but of ourselves. For those of us who have found this, we have given much and not known that we have given at all.

What was given us here we shall keep forever.

"Farewell to you and the youth I have spent with you. It was but yesterday that we met in a dream."

Sincerely,

Mindy Rutberg

TO THE GREAT 130

As our three years at Northeast draw to a close, we are all looking to the future. Many of us do not know what we want, where we are going, or how to get there. All we know is that in some way we want to be happy. There is no specific formula for happiness, so we must make our own. However, if each of us helps one individual in some way, then we have succeeded, and if the rest of our generation also succeeds in this way, then our happiness can be doubled. "He who is not his brother's keeper belongs not to the family of man."

May peace and happiness be ours,

CLASS SPONSOR

TO THE 130th CLASS,

It was three years ago that the sophomore class began an experience that would affect and shape its character. Change was the order of the day, rhetoric and bombast and style. In these three years a process of maturation has occurred, and the 130th class has emerged as the senior class that has molded words into effective action. The Senate has achieved the unqualified respect of the student body; the Tribunal is now, for the first time, the Student Mediation Panel; and the student body has embarked on such programs as the Students for Environmental Action, Karma, and the Joe Stella Fund.

The leadership and concern of the 130th class has channeled the energy of the school community into constructive enterprise. This is the mark of a great class, one whose influence will be felt for years to come. You've heard it said before that you only get out of Northeast what you put into it. You've found this to be true, but it doesn't stop at the school door. It is my hope that you will carry this leadership and concern with you throughout your life.

The best of luck to the greatest class.

Sincerely,

Gerald E. Mayall

JUNIOR PROM

. . . And then there was the Junior Prom.

With a wave of the magic wand, Cinderella was changed from her regular blue jean and T-shirt attire to a soft flowing semi-formal. Her escort became a gallant prince in formal in a deluxe Cutlass coach to the dimmed ballroom of the Doral.

The couples danced to the sound of "Psych and Soul" music. In one corner of the ballroom, "elegant" treats of pretzels, potato chips, and punch were served. When Queen Mindy gave the word, the ladies of the ball were presented with the prom key.

At the stroke of twelve, the evening had ended. The morn of May 16th brought with it the daily chores—and as each Cinderella awakened, she had a small Viking charm, suspended from the bracelet on her wrist, to remind her of a lovely evening—the evening of Class 130's Junior Prom at the Doral.

FOOT

For Coach Bill Bernardo and his Northeast Vikings, 1970 posed one of the greatest challenges in the history of Northeast football. The Vikes demonstrated tremendous determination in winning the 1968 Public League crown, but after slipping a bit in 1969, '70 became a transition year.

Showing tremendous consistency and overall balance, the Norse eleven were able to overcome crippling injuries and the smallest team fielded in the Public League to win 5, lose 2 and tie 1.

As with any winning high school team, running backs abound. Heading the attack was Jeff Coleman who rushed for 632 yards in 136 passes. Coleman's weren't spectacular, he just got the job done. The bread and butter back for the home forces, Coleman was sorely missed in the Central game because of injury.

Adding to Coleman's style was flashy Bill McGill. His elusiveness was never more evident than in the Washington game when he ripped the Eagle defense for 134 yards on 9 carries, two for touchdowns.

Rounding out the running backs was Tom Rosenfeld and Ricky Silverman. Both were instrumental in wins over Lincoln, Washington and Gratz.

At quarterback was hard luck Jerry Carangia. One couldn't go through a season and find as many injuries to the senior Viking QB as Jerry had.

Small but quick was the story of Northeast's live play. The offensive line of Mike Tener, Ron Ravitz, Larry Goldsmith and Jim Lordan averaged a little over 200 pounds. But getting the job done is what counts and these guys really put out.

Top flight ends were also characteristic of the Black and Red offense. Tom Gauntt and Howard Handfinger performed well in their dual roles as blockers and pass receivers.

The other side of the line of scrimmage had a hand in many Northeast wins. Four times the Black and Red defenders held opponents to under 10 points, twice on shut outs.

Defensive containment of the running game is a must and the sure handed "Black and Red People Eaters" did their job well. Up front for Northeast were Ronnie

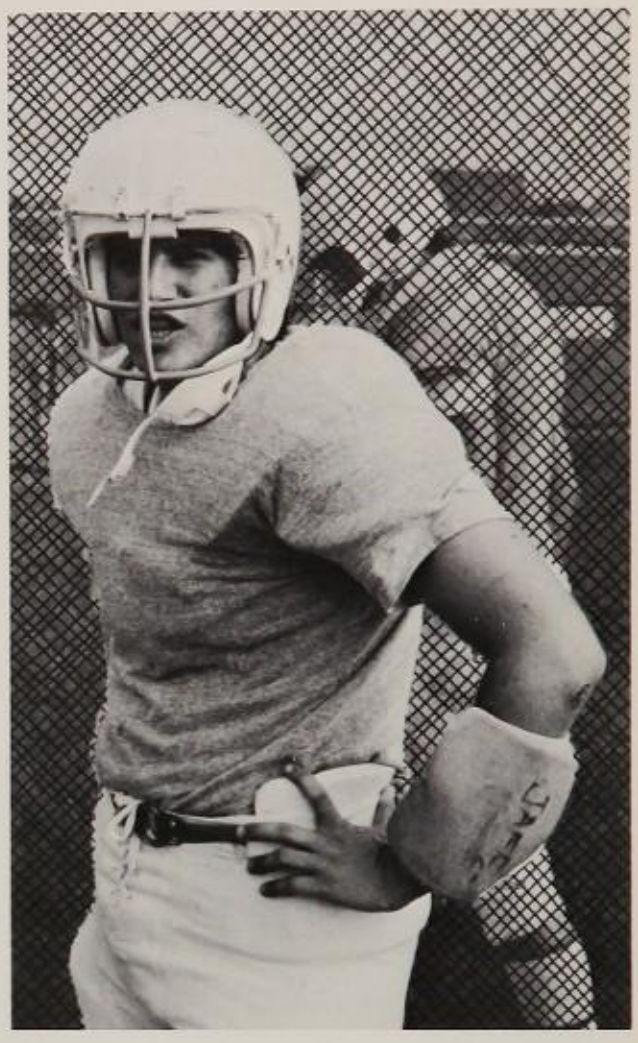
BALL

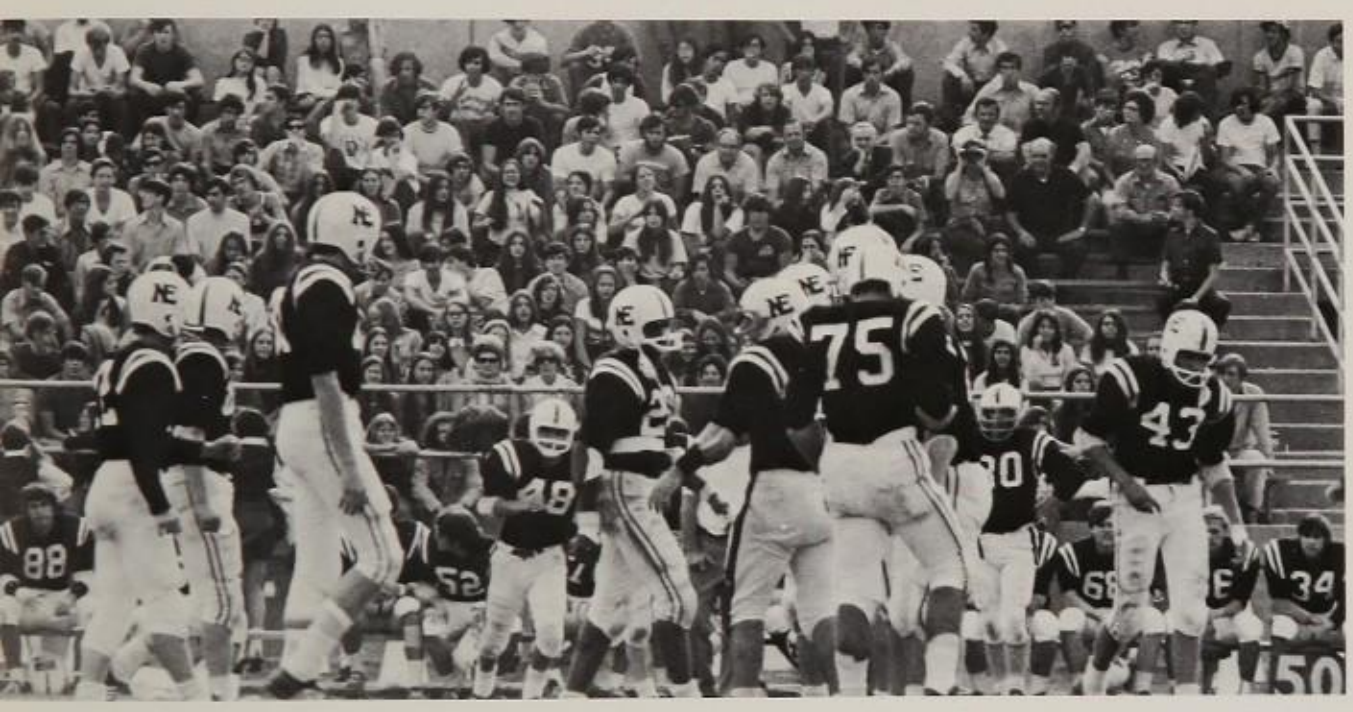
Ravitz, Lou Freedman, and Mike Tener. Also playing on the line was Jerry Jaffe.

The line backing crew was led by six foot, 195 pound Larry Shultz. He, along with John Cathcart, Tom Clark, Doug Blantz, Ed Dooley and Randy Wilson spearheaded the all out attack on enemy running backs and ends.

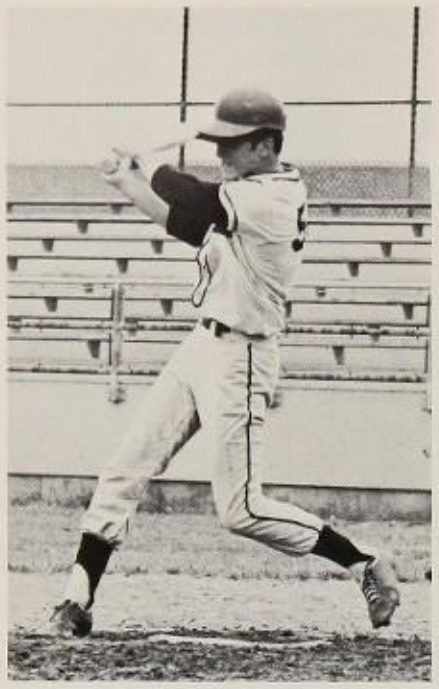
The secondary is manned by Tom Rosenfeld, Howard Handfinger and Brian Raditz. Raditz, an all-state honorable mention safety, is considered by coaches to be one of the finest in the city.

With the 1970 season past, Coach Bernardo must look towards the future. Football is a game of now, and now winning the 1971 Public League title is the immediate challenge.





BASEBALL



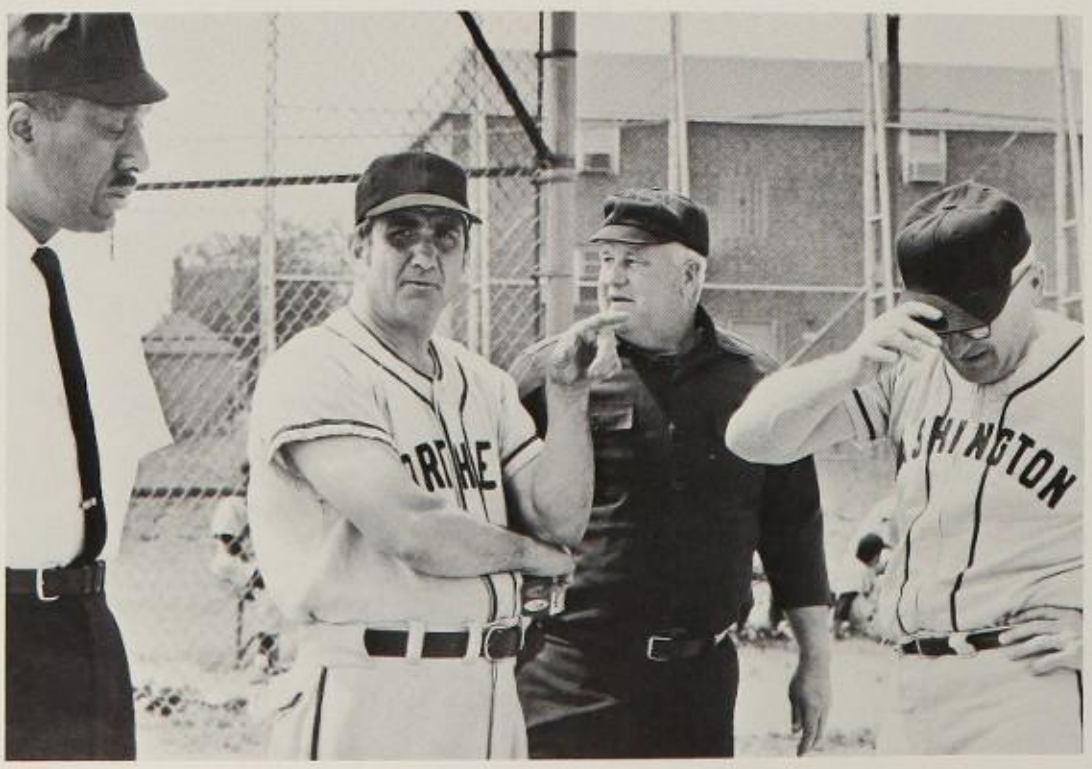
The Northeast Vikings of 1970, riding high, appeared to be on their way . . . until they were upset in the playoff by some of Lincoln's baseball magic.

Undaunted by this defeat, Coach Bill Bernardo will again be barking out signals from the dugout. Coach Bernardo did an exceptionally fine job in guiding the Viking baseballers to 10 victories in 13 tries over Black and Red opponents.

As any good baseball strategist knows, the ideal team is one in which there is a blend of veterans and rookies. Returning "oldsters" Mike Tener and Tom Clark supplied many key hits over the course of the season. Also returning to the fray is Glen Kamen, another key batsman, on whom the Vikings pin their title hopes.

New blood for the home forces will be supplied by first year men John Cathcart, Neil Morris, Neil Saladoff, and Larry Serota. Rounding out the Norse roster will be Bruce Shein, Rich Shinson, Bruce Stein, Jay Weiner, and George Welsch.

The talented club, as it now stands, appears once more to be a favorite in league play. Public league foes will again be thwarted in their efforts, as our stars of tomorrow take to the diamond for Northeast High.



SOFTBALL

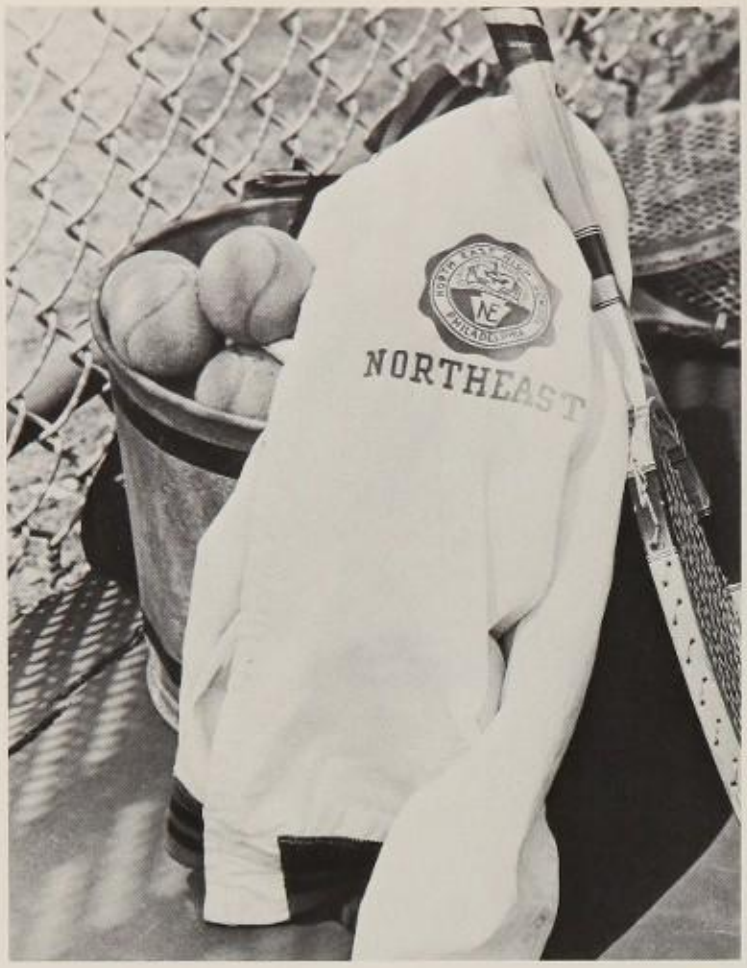
With a sigh of relief, the Dorothy R. McQueen trophy for Girls Softball was safely tucked away in the Northeast showcase for another year, following a furiously fought championship battle.

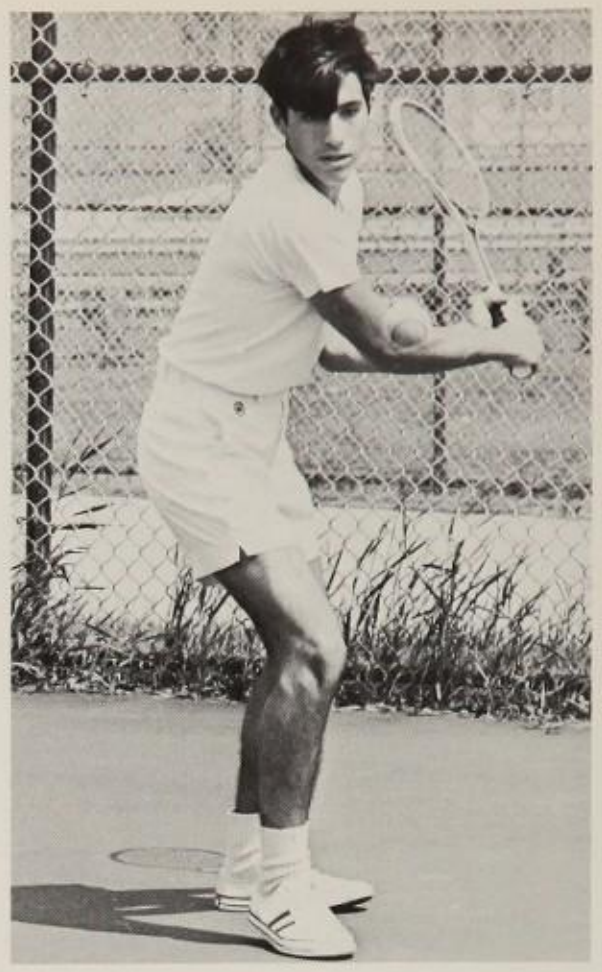
Third, behind Girls High and Frankford, in a three–way tie for first place, the girls played magnificently under pressure and emerged victorious.

Miss Barbara Thumler, sponsor, cited Linda Leibowitz, center fielder, Sharon Dortort, who covered both infield and outfield positions, and Ginny Maier, at third base, as outstanding players. Others deserving recognition included Linda Abrams, Jeri Mandel, Nancy Breitling, Terri Bruck, Aileen Moskowitz, Janice Neumayer, and Karen Norton.

The girls' successful record of ten victories and two defeats resulted from top notch teamwork, superb spirit, and the encouraging coaching of Miss Thumler.

BOYS TENNIS





For the second consecutive year, our netmen, wielding their potent rackets into booming serves and well–placed volleys, swept the tennis season and won all twelve regular season matches to defend the public high title. A record 57 individual matches were won against only 3 losses.

Outstanding performances were displayed by five of our seniors: Scott Segal, Mark Dersch, Arnie Lockstein, Barry Robbins, and Brian Rudnick.

We are confident that these back-to-back championships will instil confidence and determination to continue Northeast's splendid tennis record. Coach Gus Baack deserves a great deal of credit for his successful strategy and strong guiding hand which promoted a phenomonal achievement.

GIRLS TENNIS

Conjure up in your minds darting figures clad in white, tennis rackets swinging easily, gracefully and strongly against the serves and returns from opponents under a burning afternoon sky; and you have a fair picture of the girls tennis team of Northeast in action. The long hours of daily practice paid off well for the girls and with the capable coaching of Miss Diane Scott, they closed the season with an enviable record. Their traditional rival, Girls High, delivered their only defeat for the entire season. Returning varsity seniors are Kathy Heidt, Barbra Black, Sue Peteroff, Lisa Lipman, and Alice Levy, all eager to improve their speed, agility, and keen eyes that the sport of tennis demands for championship results.

ARCHERY

Muscles taut, arms drawn slowly back, and SWOOSH! Slender arrows sail through the air and hopefully find their way to the bullseye.

The archery club, which met throughout the spring and early summer, aimed to develop skilled marksmen. Guided by Miss Doris Gillespie, the William Tells of Northeast held an inter–club tournament at the season's close. Everyone was encouraged to participate regardless of their degree of proficiency. The sport provided recreation and an opportunity for team members to improve coordination. The co–ed activity produced an exceptionally fine turn–out this year and initiated and formation of two new co–ed groups, intra–mural swimming and bowling.

CROSS COUNTRY

Crouched in their starting positions, the runners anticipated the starting signal. The whistle blew and instantly they were off. Somewhere among the blur of racing participants were seniors Larry Shultz and Kenny Adami.

For the long distance relay, the team could depend upon Bill Nagle and his distance men, the backbone of the team. In the field events, Bill Mc Gill was the man with the broad and high jumps.

Although the season was a disappointment, Coach Lewis Moore felt that if more moral support had been given to the team they might have been boosted to better results. Perhaps this year, when our men are once again crouched in their starting positions, the shouts from the stands will cheer them on to victory!

TRACK AND FIELD

GIRLS BASKETBALL

This year's girls basketball team is a strong one, and their coach, Miss Barbara Thumbler, is confident the girls will make the play-offs, in this, their second year of actual league competition.

Generally, at the start of each game, Northeast took quick possession of the ball, racing down the court towards an oft-undefeated goal. The Red and Black's swift passing and accurate shooting chalked up point after point, and the team's fine defense provided able guarding. Seniors Ginny Mair, Terry Bruck, and Donna Garner were the captains of the team this season and helped complete the formidable starting varsity line-up.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Glenn Kamen and Art Davis against the world. Better known as the Northeast Vikings these two put on a dazzling display of basketball wizardry on the court.

Glenn Kamen. Put 5 like him on the court in the same uniform and you'll not only rule the Public league but the Catholic and Suburban loops as well. A superb outside shooter, Kamen was the Vikes' leading scorer. His 20 points per game average ranks him with past Northeast hoop greats.

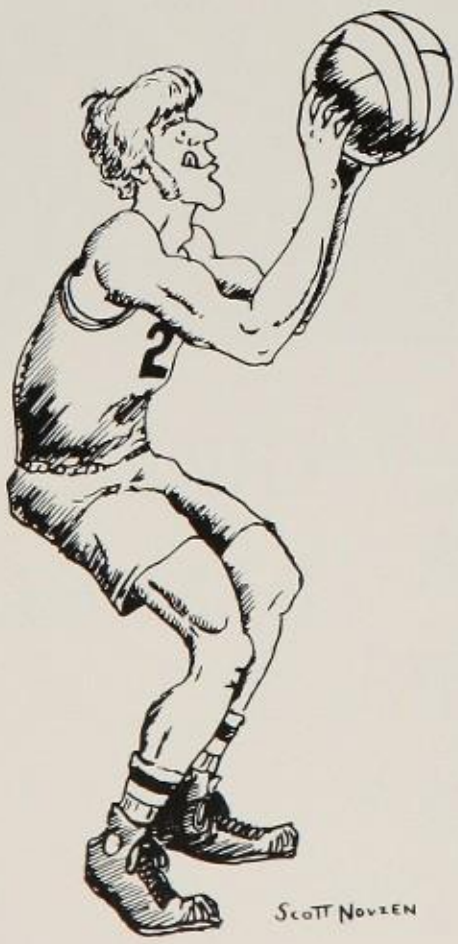
Kamen, however, isn't the whole Viking show. He got help from forward Art Davis. Davis, a strong rebounder, complemented Kamen well from the field and under the boards.

Assisting Kamen in the backcourt was Howard Handfinger. Handfinger, a good shooter, averaged 6 points per game.

Height is a key factor in the Viking game plan. None fits the bill better than 6'9" Center Paul Levy. Also grappling for rebounds were Tom Gauntt and Larry Serota.

Bench strength is a fundamental need for any cage squad. Bruce Stein and Bruce Sheinson contributed much without loss of effectiveness when called upon.

Coach William Sheppard has done a fine job molding a loose, hustling squad. His knowledge of handling high school players has been a great asset to the Red and Black five.



BOWLING

FENCING

BOYS GYMNASTICS

Subscribing to the theory of a sound mind and a sound body, Northeast has once again developed a team of great physical talent and power—our Gym Team.

In 1970, Northeast earned a respectable third place standing in their division, having won six out of eight gym meets. The 1971 season promises to be equally successful, as indicated by two major victories over Lincoln and Frankford.

Developing his team around Robert Lenj, who received the 1970 scholastic athlete award from the Bulletin, and Brian Ernst, whose specialties include the side horse and rings, Coach "Gus" Baack has diligently created contenders for the public high championship.

Kevin Wilkerson, doing his thing on the horizontal and parallel bars, tumbler Joe Blankinship, Terry Miller, and Walter Haeberly comprise the senior members of the team.

It is a beautiful sight to attend the gym meets and to marvel at the intricate movements executed with precision and grace by our squad.

SWIM TEAM

In a sport where a split second is the difference between victory and defeat, our dynamic Northeast swim team, coached by Mr. Bob Thomas, emerged with splashing success. Propelling their finely tuned bodies with precise and swift, graceful movements, our aquatic sportsmen gained victory after victory over submerged opponents.

Wayne Greer and Steve Kahn exhibited their mastery of the difficult breast stroke. The efforts of Mark Dersch and Manager David Brumberg added significant strength to the team.

Gerry Moore and Algirdas Gavenas represented Northeast on the diving board. Their individuality of movement in this highly disciplined activity resulted in competitive successes.

The 1970 season produced 5 wins and 2 losses. This year, indications are that we will reach an even higher plateau with our current undefeated record of 6 wins and 3 meets to go.

VOLLEYBALL

The gym thunders with spirited cries, "Our team is really great!" and the confident chant couldn't be more correct. This year, the Varsity Volleyball Team chalked up an amazing record of eight wins and one loss, and the four other teams played equally well. The spirit and enthusiasm of the girls was matched only by the excellent teamwork they exhibited at each game. Sponsors Miss Mary Smith and Mrs. Nancy Sarr rotated the position of team captain this year, giving every girl equal opportunity to serve the group. Perhaps this move brought the girls that unified feeling so essential in winning, and the Volleyball Team did exactly that!

GIRLS GYMNASTICS

Last year's undefeated record tells most of the gymnastic team's story. One girl, Janet Cantwell tells the rest.

Janet, without question, is the best gymnast Northeast has ever had. Her many years of training and practice have brought her recognition in local and state, national and international competitions. In the fall of 1970, Janet was sent to Yugoslavia as one of the eight girls representing the United States at the World Games. This remarkable group also performed in London, England, and Zurich, Switzerland. Through top cooperation and very hard work, they placed 7th among 35 participating nations.

With highest spirits and endless hours of practice, the girls on the Northeast Gymnastic Team worked with Coach Diane Scott and Olympic-bound Janet Cantwell to become the undefeated city champs for two consecutive years. Is it any wonder why victory is again predicted for the flexible girls in '71?

LEADERS CLUB

Marching onto the field in time to sounding trumpets and rolling drums is the Northeast High School Color Guard. The Guards' intricate drills were devised, taught, and led by their captain, Karen Norton, and formed an integral part of the pre-game and half-time ceremonies. Their fine performances of swirling banners, twirling guns, and flashing sabers heightened the excitement and spirit at our football games.

COLOR GUARD

VIKINGS Go !!!

"Hey, Hey, Hey, Red! Hey, Black! They cannot hold us back!"

Vigorously chanting with never ending spirit, Northeast Cheerleaders help prod the "Vikings" on to victory. With each touch-down, the group lightly leaps into the air displaying varied jumps and shouts. With each fumble? . . . . . "Let's go Northeast, WE WANT SOME ACTION!"

Never losing their patience, the squad once again becomes optimistic and coaxes the stands to join with their support. Captain Merle Roffman announces cheers to the spectators while efficient co-captains Eileen Benkin and Vicki Steinberg cheerfully assist in "spreading the word" to the other cheerleaders.

Even though the football team never quite made it to Franklin Field, Northeast Cheerleaders (aided by Miss Alberta Gallagher) kept "ON THE BEAM" to insure plenty of spirit and entertainment for all.

COUNCIL

Two heads are better than one. With forty-five you just can't miss! The 12th Grade Council put their heads together and were able to initiate an astonishing number of activities.

The council introduced Senior Day with the notion of enhancing the spirit of the school leaders for the big Thanksgiving Day Game. Senior Prom plans were devised very early in the year to assure the students of a most enjoyable affair. Our class trip will always be remembered as a delightful and relaxing experience.

Mr. Gerald Mayall, class advisor, guided the group of elected representatives with a spark of imagination and individuality. The councilmen, however, were the firm roots of the ideas and the powers that made every activity a success.

Without the dedication of this group of students, our senior year at Northeast could never have reached such a zenith of distinction.

SENATE

Revolution, Reformation, Revision—the Northeast Senate is constantly changing and breathlessly running to keep pace with the world.

Students, resentful of being deprived of a voice in school affairs, finally stood up, boldly refuting the policies of the social minded cliques in office. Dissatisfaction with senate programs gave birth to opportunities to air student's grievances. It was no longer enough to be seen and not heard.

This year clearly marked the end of the "popularity people regime". Candidates and their platforms were carefully considered. Students exercised their votes intelligently and elected better informed and more concerned senators to represent them. Tommy Rosenfeld, president, aided by vice-presidents Horace Johnson and Perry Blackman made a significant contribution to a stronger senate for future Northeasters.

By selectively choosing competent leaders, students have exhibited their interest in school matters and have voiced their firm disapproval of APATHY.

SENATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

TREASURERS

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Those students who were elected into the Andrew J. Morrison chapter of the National Honor Society were given certificates declaring that their election was based on "scholarship, leadership, service, and character." Once members, many of them began to question the organization's usefulness and decided to give this placid, inactive group its first spark of life.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Janet Wattenmaker, Ruben Kleiman, and Shelly Stuart were chosen to represent Northeast at an Honor Society convention at the William Tennent High School in Warminster, Pa. The topic under discussion was "What can be done with education." Delegates were taken to the Everett MacDonald Elementary School to observe the phenomena of an ultra contemporary education. The afternoon was spent discussing various programs and activities used among the different chapters.

As a result of this excursion, Northeast's Honor Society initiated a planning committee with the hope of establishing a more relevant student organization.

PROM COMMITTEE

STUDENT MEDIATION PANEL

To promote better understanding between faculty and students, Northeast initiated the Student Mediation Panel, the first such group in Philadelphia public schools. Composed of nine seniors, the panel met each day to discuss all the formal grievances presented by the protesting seniors, relating either to faculty or fellow classmates.

The panel, selected on the basis of maturity gave assistance to any classmate who felt that his constitutional rights, as stated in the Student Bill of Rights, had been infringed upon and who had submitted a written statement explaining the grievance and asking to be heard. Rather than serve as judges or lawyers, as did the panel's predecessor, the Tribunal, it offered objective observations and recommendations in an attempt to get to the root of the problems. When the panel felt itself unable to help the student, he was directed to someone who would be better able to resolve the conflict. Although the panel still had many problems to iron out, it has already helped to create a more workable, harmonious relationship among all in our school.

DEBATING SOCIETY

A lively, acutely aware group of students comprises the Northeast Debating Society which challenges opponents throughout the city to contests in logic and semantics. Instructed in the art of argumentation by Mr. Bernard Tomkins, sponsor, the Debating Society tackles questions in much the same way experienced lawyers do. Whether the position they take upon the resolution in question is pro or con, the debaters must be knowledgeable, articulate, and convincing. All arguments not pertaining to their cause are carefully weeded out, and a concise, factual rebuttal is the debater's objective.

The benefits the students who qualify reap from their experiences as debaters are two-fold. In addition to developing and perfecting their abilities to organize their thinking and offer ideas clearly and eloquently, they also gain an in-depth knowledge and understanding of many of the contemporary problems which plague our society today.

PROM BREAKFAST COMMITTEE

WORLD AFFAIRS CLUB

The Viet Nam War, the Middle East conflict, over-population, and racism are some of the topics plaguing us, not only as students at Northeast High or citizens of the United States, but as members of our complex world. The World Affairs Club is committed to discussing and analyzing these problems on the student level.

The group, sponsored by Mr. Lewis Lisman, feels the first step towards tranquility is a better understanding of people's mores and traditions of living. A one-week assembly program on racism was written and presented by the club to the student body. A great honor was bestowed upon these students when they were chosen to represent Israel in the Model U.N. They have also travelled to New York and Washington, D.C. and attended seminars on world problems.

The World Affairs Club believes in getting involved and hopes to become a meaningful guide line for other students to follow.

STUDENTS FOR ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION

STUDENTS UNITED FOR PEACE

How can a group of high school students, united for peace, be effective? After existing quietly for a few years, rapid changes are occurring in this club. Although its members strive to promote peace, this is only one of their goals.

The club was a major stronghold in the battle for the high school Bill of Rights. Through their efforts students were alerted to and became aware of the significances and responsibilities attached to this declaration.

Stirring words ring out at meetings as a selection of speakers delivered their thoughts on vital contemporary issues. The draft and the United Farm Workers Strike were no longer limited to front page news. An information table, offering literature from diversified sources, further enlightened and challenged students to think and debated relevant issues of the day.

World Peace—how beautiful the words do sound. Are they too idealistic? Perhaps. But understanding through education may make the elusive dream a reality.

AIR POLLUTION DETECTION

Where have all the flowers gone?

Tomorrow's poet may have to resign himself to writing about a world turned gray by factory fumes and lakes metamorphosed into poisonous films of contamination. Unless pollution is abruptly halted, the beautifully vivid fields, towering trees and rows of pink and crimson flowers may be completely gone, existing only in our memories.

Pollution, the most severe threat to life as we now know it, aroused into being the Air Pollution Club, a group of junior ecologists who refuse to let pollution reach the stage where its damage may be irreversible. Numerous afternoons have been spent enacting experiments on plants and water and air supplies to see how much harm has already been done. Unfortunately, many of the answers have been tragic ones. Pollution has already begun to have a destructive effect on many aspects of our lives, but hopefully, with scientists and researchers as sincerely concerned as our own young ecologists man may yet be victor in the anti-pollution war.

KARMA–
DRUG
GROUP

WANTED: A place where students can openly discuss the drug problem. No qualifications are necessary and sessions are intended for members of the student body only, with no faculty representation.

The Drug Peer Group is a student controlled activity where the many aspects of the drug situation are explored and brought into focus. All discussions are completely confidential, and any Northeaster may participate without fear of parental or official interference. While some of the members have visited various community groups, relating their encounters and experiences with drugs, the basic motivation for this innovative organization is neither denouncing nor advocating the use of drugs. The sole objective and reason for the club's being is the opportunity for students to discuss and question this contemporary dilemma frankly with members of their own age group.

Success in forming such an activity was largely due to the concentrated efforts of Mr. William Braverman, Mrs. Davies U. Bahr, and Mr. Clarence W. Clothier. Along with student members, they made the Drug Peer Group a meaningful reality.

HEBREW CULTURAL SOCIETY

Shalom, Haverim!

Welcome to the Hebrew Culture Society, friends! Organized through the efforts of an enthusiastic sponsor, Mrs. Ilea Goldberg, and three seniors, Wendy Lastman, Elliot Perkstein, and Shelley Tuzman, the club attempted to bring the state of Israel and the Hebrew Language closer to Northeast High School, exposing all interested students to Israeli culture.

Gathering energetic folk dancers, forming a Hebrew newspaper, viewing films, debating the current Israeli crisis, and holding holiday parties highlighted the year's activities. Through these events the club hopes to develop a greater interest in Middle East and Semitic societies.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

SEWING CLUB

Amidst myriad textures, exotic colors and the syncopated clik-clik of sewing machines, Northeast's Sewing Club led the quiet home economics room of 134 into kaleidoscopic motion.

Enthusiastic seamstresses and designers set the stage for effervescent fashion debates and the creation of unique fashions and objets d'art. Conscientiously at work, they lent a constant flow of vitality (if not always expertise) to the exacting arts of dressmaking, crocheting, knitting and needlepoint. Of course, even the most boundless energy can't replace experience when a designer masterpiece is being created, and so, Mrs. Frances Chwalinska was often called upon for help in mending a torn pattern and fixing a crooked seam. Roxanne Gorko, president, found herself giving advice to many forlorn beginners.

With a few hours of work, sheaves of material and expert advice, a one-of-a-kind fashion original is born!

RED CROSS CLUB

In today's world, there is a growing awareness of the need to reach out and "help thy neighbor." Paralleling the international Red Cross organization, which helps people all over the world, the Northeast Red Cross Club aids the community.

The club offers two different types of programs. For those talented students who enjoy performing for audiences, Mrs. Nancy Schwartz, sponsor, arranges shows at old age homes, hospitals, and various charitable organizations. President Merle Roffman—"Master of Ceremonies"—entertains along with Janet Wattenmaker and other active members. Other seniors participate in the swimming program, instructing mentally retarded children.

The students' bright smiles mirror their feelings. There is a sense of accomplishment, self pride, and perhaps most of all, the satisfying knowledge that each individual has somehow lightened the life of another less fortunate being.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

Gone are the days when a woman's sole task was to cook her mate's prey over an open pit or scrub clothes by a flowing stream. Today's aspiring women are not only adept at basic household chores, but also warn to master economy and efficiency, since many housewives are career women too.

In keeping pace with our rapidly changing world, the Future Homemakers of America, headed by Mrs. Frances Chwalinska, has widened its goal far beyond the range of simple cooking and baking. Through this rewarding and interesting club, girls are given the opportunity to create and model exciting, original fashions and invent exotic gourmet dishes, often in less than an hour's time. In this way, future young homemakers will find that they are able to cultivate many engaging interests, from politics to technology, and still manage a smooth, comfortably run home.

MEGAPHONE STAFF

Imagine a community of four thousand people having no central source of collecting and disseminating information. The days of the town crier have long since disappeared from the streets and found their way into history books. It is essential that the students of Northeast High School be informed of the activities, news, and general information pertaining to the school.

The Northeast Megaphone capably performs this task by reporting timely and interesting articles.

Working with tireless and unselfish motivation, The Megaphone Literary Staff, guided by Mrs. Jean Snow and Editor-in-Chief Marilyn Odesser, works as a team to present issue after issue of good journalistic reporting.

Efficient distribution of The Megaphone is accomplished with the organization and cooperation of The Megaphone Business Staff. Sponsor Mr. Martin Britchkow, Manager Carol Marke, and the Business Staff are responsible for the orderly issuance of the monthly publication.

TICKET DISTRIBUTION COMMITTEE

During one club gathering a week, a handful of talented students translate their thoughts and emotions for the Phalarope to feed upon. Criticizing students' work, they discuss, weigh, consider, and select the most meaningful and creative pieces of writing. With each essay, poem, and short story, the Phalarope, a unique little bird, grows and eventually matures.

Though in actuality the Phalarope bares a resemblance to a sandpiper, the similarity ends here. This creature, known for his eccentric habits, takes to the air and at his peak circulates the compounds of Northeast. The journey is made twice a year. Each flight enables the staff members of the Phalarope Magazine to try a little harder to reach out and touch its student readers.

PHALAROPE STAFF

GERMAN NEWSPAPER

A fairly recent addition to Northeast's list of extra-curricular activities is the German newspaper. Die Nordost Rundschaus, entering into its second year of publication after a brief period of absence, is sponsored by Miss Helen Quinn. Although any German student may contribute material, the bulk of the newspaper is written by the staff, who do exceptionally well in German. The flavor of the newspaper is distinctly Deutsche, covering such topics as the political views, economic growth, and lives of the German people. Jokes, puzzles, and recipes are also included. In addition to publishing the newspaper, the club also serves to create a cultural atmosphere other than its own.

DANCE CLUB

A glance in the girls gym on a Tuesday or Thursday afternoon will show a busy but comic scene. Scattered into small groups, the girls, dressed in black leotards, gracefully move with the beat of the music. They learn not only from each other but also from the skilled direction of Mrs. Davies Bahr. What could possibly disturb this peaceful participation? . . . only an occasional basketball intercepting one otherwise perfectly done tour jeté.

Yes, the boys belong to this club also. When they are not taught the wonders of the waltz and polka, and when they are not in the process of lifting light female dancers into numerous positions,—they manage to shoot baskets among themselves . . . it's part of the "agreement."

The dance club puts on an assembly program for all at Northeast annually. This year's theme was "Country Western." The music was as diversified as the body movements—ranging from modern jazz and ballet to slapstick square dance. The girls themselves choreographed many of the numbers.

With the coming of the school show "Oliver", the specialty dancers will have an opportunity to be part of the show production with singers and full orchestration—an experience that will make them tingle with excitement for many months to come.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The house lights dim as the actors slip into their roles. The audience is captured by the mood of The Playwright's Dilemna. This was the first time an independent dramatic work was presented aside from the school show. Director of the group, Shelley Tuzman, exemplified the enthusiasm and spirit which marked all of the club's efforts.

The main objective was to introduce the fundamentals of stage craft. Each member was given an opportunity to explore the areas of acting, casting, directing, and set design. Guest speakers helped to create a professional atmosphere in addition to offering their own experiences in a world of make-believe and reality.

USHERS CLUB

STAGE CREW

All eyes were fixed upon the conductor. With a swift upward movement of arms, slender bows became poised in the air; shining brass instruments were positioned. As arms gracefully moved to the first downbeat, the sounding magic began. Mr. Harry Giamo, conductor, had led his student musicians through another wonderful experience; an experience in music.

Interminable time and energy had been spent in preparation for current concerts. Orchestra members found themselves responding to the immortal compositions of Beethoven and Mozart along with contemporary pieces from "Oliver." They have proven themselves to be truly talented musicians. Among the best are concert mistress Susan Peteroff, Philadelphia Orchestra soloist Paul Karchin, Alex Sharrock, Marcus Kurz, Lucy King, and Steven Paraczky.

Music is their infinite world. It is a diary of man's ethereal emotions and his profound thoughts. So much had been given to those of us who responded to its infinite charms.

The undeniable artistry of the Northeast orchestra has not only delighted its audiences, but also has immeasurably prepared many of our musicians for either a promising career or a most rewarding and fulfilling avocational interest.

CONCERT CHOIR

Thunderous applause fills the auditorium, expressing the approval of a highly pleased audience. Once again, the efforts of the Concert Choir of Northeast High School, superbly conducted by Mr. Robert Steele, have been rewarded.
Diligent work is necessary to coordinate the functions that comprise any well-balanced organization. President Mark Barrish, Vice President Janet Nisenholz, and Secretary Janet Wattenmaker work enthusiastically to encourage each choir member to participate in various social activities. The outstanding success of the Winter Concert and the Spring Festival, performed annually, reflects not only dedication and hard work, but the merging of 85 students, drawn together in a harmonious atmosphere by their mutual love of music.

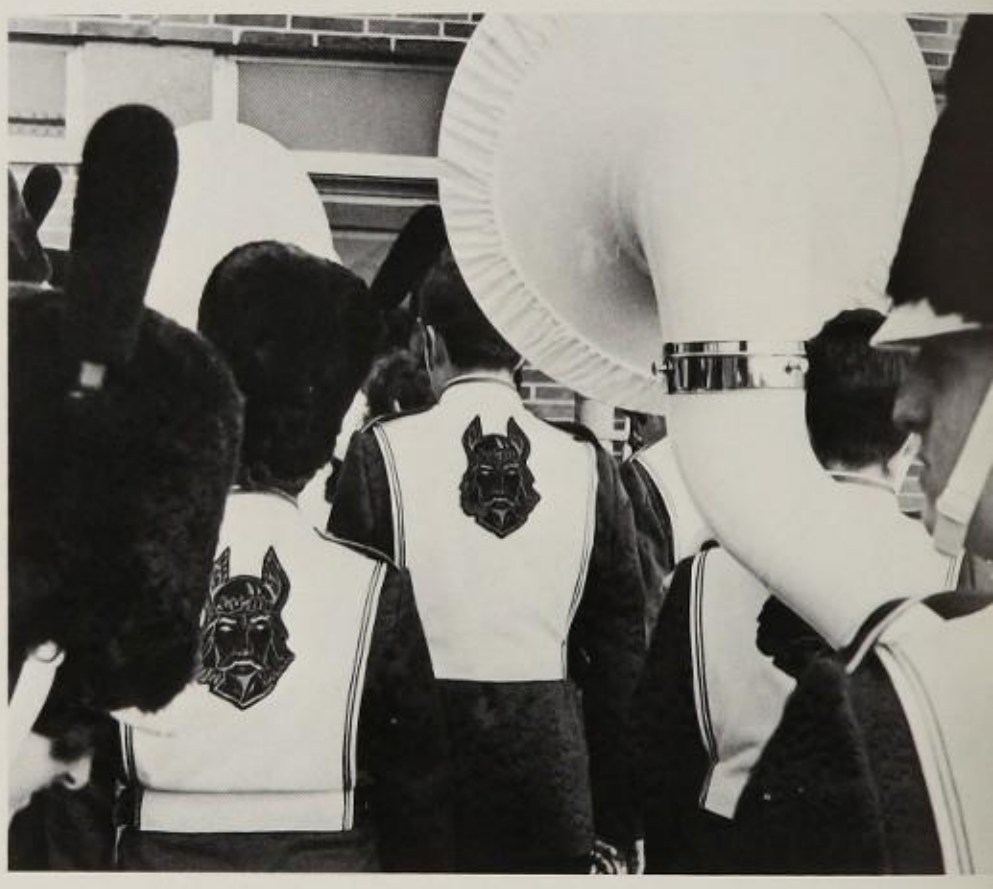
SCIENCE ACTIVITIES CLUB



The ref's shrill whistle signifies the end of the first half; the football players run for the lockers and the sixty-six piece Marching Band of Northeast, led by drum major Paul Karchin, parades onto the field. Under the relentless driving of band leader Mr. Harry Giamo, the group performed new numbers and executed a multitude of unique drill formations throughout the season which culminated in a stirring presentation of all the drills together at the Thanksgiving Day Game. The band's clear, strong notes rose to crisp, fall skies in contemporary and long-established tunes alike. Accompanying the traditional NE letter formation were current themes, including a mammoth peace symbol. The thrilling music, high-stepping boots, and flashing colors provided fine entertainment and added to the excitement of our football games.

BUILD YOUR OWN COMPUTER

The name is the goal. Members of the Build Your Own Computer Club intend to do just that—build individual demonstration computers. Sponsored by Mr. Harold Neerenberg, the activity was organized when a group of students, including Paul Karchin and Geoffrey Mendelssohn, banded together to experiment with computer circuitry. Now the effort is to unify and construct several units which, combined, will produce a more complex machine.

By arousing the ingenuity for dealing with the intricate, Build Your Own Computer Club gears its members toward a technical future in a technical age.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers of America Club exhibits a function implicative of its title. It molds today's students into tomorrow's teachers.

After classes student volunteers give a few spare hours to tutor a child in his basic mathematical and reading skills at various community schools. There is a one-to-one correspondence; pupil to instructor. End results are rewarding and the bewildered child finds it easier to learn in both an encouraging and stimulating atmosphere. Pupils can more easily comprehend their subjects with the application of visual aids.

With the assistance of their sponsor, Mr. Joseph Weiland, and other activity leaders, interested students are introduced to teaching techniques as well as student teaching practice and tutorial experiences.

The success of this club is dependent upon a partnership between pupil and tutor in the pursuit of knowledge. It has proven to be especially rewarding.

The mark of a stable and sincere organization is the extent to which it is capable of evaluating and criticizing its functions. The Girls Athletic Association has taken an earnest look at its objectives and decided that re-organization was in order.

Basically, this group has changed from including section representatives, headed by a president, to an executive board with the section representatives serving as its satellites. One girl from each athletic organization is a member of the board. This compact group makes decisions, supervises G.A.A. activities, and comes up with new ideas for raising money and improving school spirit. Eileen Lord represents this club in the Senate while Miss Barbara Thumbler oversees all of the G.A.A. functions.

Now that all these alternations and modifications have come about, exactly what is a G.A.A. section rep? She is basically an elected salesgirl. What does she usually sell, . . . Viking Pillows, Viking Tags, Tag Day Tags, Pins, Flip Cards, and SPIRIT! Though she may not work on commission, she knows that by raising money for the school's use in social and athletic events and equipment, she is helping herself and fellow North-easters.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Northeast is constantly on the move, caught up in everchanging moods and enthusiasms, the unpredictable aura of youth.

As a subject, it presents a challenge to even the most experienced artists and photographers, but it has been captured, very successfully, in the work of the talented Archive art staff.

Through hundreds of candid shots, still photos, afternoons spent toiling with the writers over lay-outs or behind the easel, designing, they have, under the guidance of Mr. Silberman, managed to achieve an arresting visual portrayal of the enthusiasm and excitement with which our years at Northeast abound.

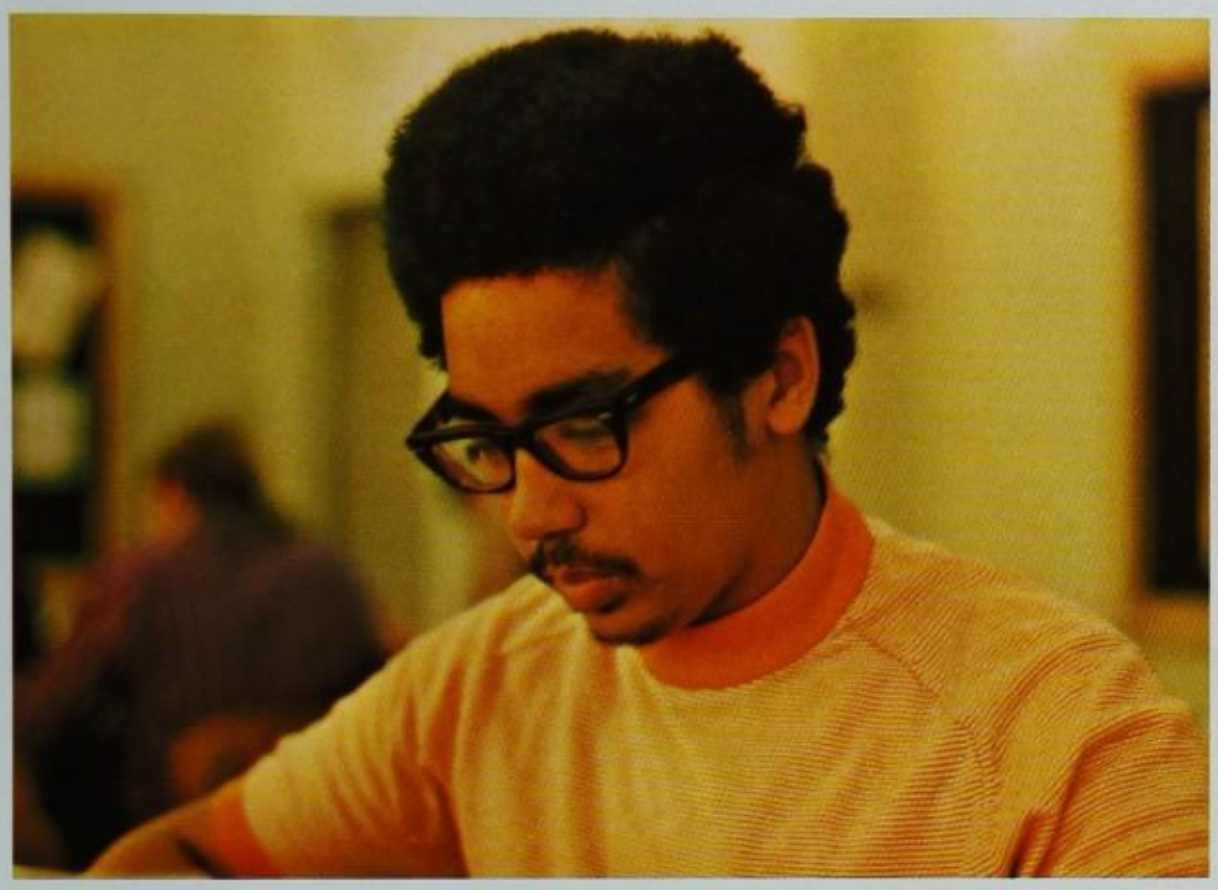
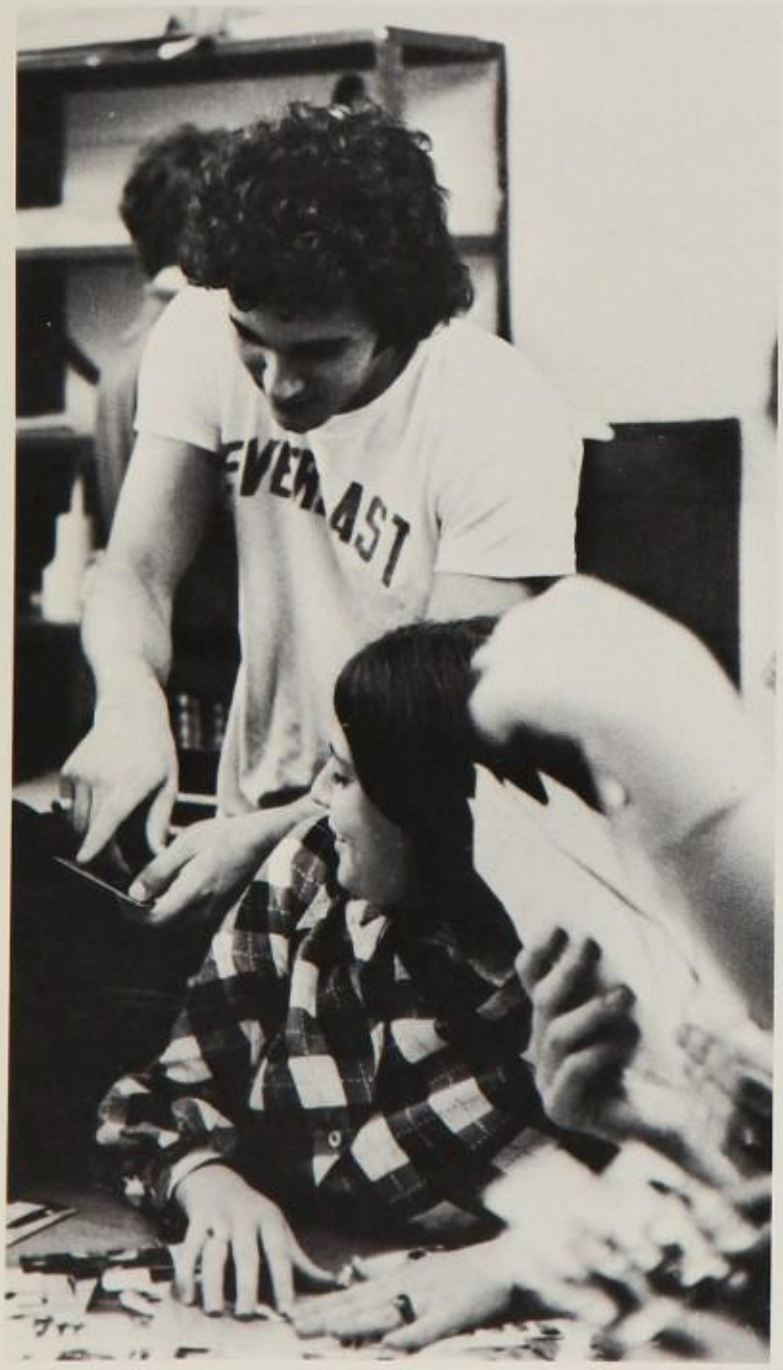
ARCHIVE ART





ARCHIVE LITERARY

In each of us there is a treasury of memories that, although once very much alive, seem somehow to fade as we add to our experience and explore the new and unknown.

Mr. Edward A. Rutenberg, Editors, Merle Roffman, Merle Rossman, have spent many long hours delving through the vast repertoire of discoveries and special, special moments that we have all garnered through the past few years. Together, they have pursued the very difficult task of selecting and recreating, in worlds, the most poignant, the happiest, the best of times;

composing a written treasury of our Northeast years so that they will never turn to fading memories but always will be as vibrantly alive as they are today.

SPARC

What lurks behind those formidable gray doors that lead to the aerospace wing? Close the door softly behind you and walk down the long corridor which makes rather sterile attempts to appear friendly. There is an attentive hush, an unmistakable air of concentration and preoccupation that makes you feel ignominious. On one side of the hall is a large, well-equipped laboratory, where students listen intently to the educative language of their instructor. Peer through the clean glass doors of another, high-ceilinged room, where a single man sits studying controls with nothing but the unobtrusive whirl of the computers that surround him for company.

There are many divisions of Project SPARC, each one highly developed in its area of concentration. SPARC is the only project of its kind recognized by NASA for its studies on adolescent metabolism. Each field of specialization is equally important to SPARC and the final test of its success is how well the different units can consolidate and work together.

Project Chairman, Ed Arkans, aided by SPARC Management Committee, analyzes and blueprints the plans for the project, and each group manager introduces the new ideas to his committee for detailed planning. In charge of construction and engineering is Systems Engineering Manager, Jeff Cutler, under whose direction control boards and unassembled equipment are prepared for use. SPARC's medical crew is trained in monitoring medical data by Jerry Goldberg, the Medical Manager. This year's program has expanded to include the research and analyzation of the effects of Tilt Table Test, bed rest, and psychology tests. Essential to each astronaut participating in a simulated flight is a strong, sound body, therefore the physical fitness training program for these students is rigid. Neal Flomenberg is Test Operations Manager, and he and Bruce Friedman, Test Safety Manager, are responsible for photographing and analyzing the flame spread rate in materials in simulated flight conditions. A branch of this group, Test Plan Coordination, organizes the schedules of all flights.

The Apollo altitude simulator capsule is due for completion on May 28, 1971. While awaiting this date, SPARC members are familiarizing themselves with the equipment and control boards of their particular group. Advanced and complex studies on adolescent metabolism are being furthered, and in preparation for the capsule, the Test Operations group is conducting a series of fire tests in a small altitude chamber. Introduced this year was a new Volunteer in Training Program, which, in conjunction with Jeanes Hospital, allows students to work in specific hospital departments with hospital personnel.

What lurks behind those big gray doors? Project SPARC, a remarkable, full-credentialed scientific program operated for and by the students of Northeast.

THE BOX

Once upon a time in the land of hush-a-bye,
Around about the wonderous days of yore,
They came across a sort of box
Bound up with chains and locked with locks
And labeled 'Kindly do not touch, it's war.'

A decree was issued round about-all with a flourish and a shout
And a gaily coloured mascot
Tripping lightly on before-
'Don't fiddle with this deadly box
Or break the chains or pick the locks
And please don't ever mess about with war.'

Well the children understood,
Children happen to be good
And were just as good around the time of yore,
They didn't try to pick the locks
Or break into the deadly box
And never tried to play about with war.

Mommies didn't either,
Sisters, Aunts nor Grannies neither
'Cos they were quiet and sweet and pretty
In those wonderous days of yore,
Well very much the same as now
And not the ones to blame somehow
For opening up that deadly box of war,

But someone did,

Someone battered in the lid
And spilled the insides out across the floor,
A sort of bouncy bumpy ball
Made up of flags and guns and all
The tears and horror and the death
That goes with war.

It bounced right out
And went bashing all about
And bumping into everything in store
And what was sad and most unfair
Was that it didn't really seem to care
Much how it bumped, or why
Or what, or for.

It bumped the children mainly,
And I'll tell you this quite plainly,
It bumps them everyday and more and more
And leaves them dead and burned and dying,
Thousands of them sick and crying,
'Cos when it bumps its very, very sore.

There is a way to stop the ball,
It isn't very hard at all,
All it takes is wisdom
And I'm absolutely sure
We could get it back into the box
And bind the chains and lock the lock
But no one seems to want to save the children anymore.

Well that's the way it all appears
'Cos its been bouncing round for years and years

In spite of all the wisdom wizzed
Since those wonderous days of yore,
And the time they came across that box
Bound up with chains and locked with locks
And labeled, 'Kindly do not touch, it's war.'
